Due to State guidelines changing frequently, upon registering over the phone you will only pay for half of your classes at this time. The other half will be charged the week of February 22nd. We will set up a payment plan to auto-deduct your card half way through the winter spring session.

Currently, the State determined we cannot have in-person classes. As soon as the State gives us the ok to return to in-person classes, we will. State guidelines will determine if we can resume in person immediately upon the start of winter spring session. In the event we are required to begin via Zoom classes, the Frankfort Square Park District will offer refund credits to anyone choosing not to participate in Zoom classes. However, winter spring session is showcase choreography season and we still plan to have a showcase at the end of the year. With this being said, it is up in the air whether or not we will resume to in-person for the winter spring right away. Enrollment for dancers looking to begin only when in person classes resume, will only be considered within the first 2 weeks of classes based off of availability. Please note we may still be via Zoom week 3 if the State does not change their guidelines. Space and enrollment cannot be guaranteed. Upon requesting a refund credit, you will be unenrolled from each class and have to re-sign up. To participate in the showcase the dancer must be enrolled by week 3, whether we are via Zoom or in-person.

Dance classes will still operate under Phase 3 guidelines. Spots will be limited.
